GREEN RIVER ISLAND.

Report of Indiana Commissioners Ready for Supreme Court.

There was a conference yesterday afternoon between Governor Matthews, Attorney-General Ketcham and Maj. G. V. Menzies, of Mt. Vernon. The last-named is the Indiana member of the commission appointed by the United States Supreme Court to settle the dispute between Kentucky and Indiana over the ownership of the Green River Island between the two States. The commission has decided on a report to the Supreme Court, the same being satisfactory to Indiana. Mr. Ketcham and Major Menzies are fearful that the Kentucky officials will make a special plea for the island, so they wish to be on their guard. Mr. Ketcham and Major Menzies were to go to Washington to-day concerning the matter, but after the conference of yesterday it was decided to delay the trip for a few days. The probable action will be considered further.

PLENTY OF MATERIAL

MANY ASPIRANTS FOR A SEAT IN THE GUBERNATORIAL CHAIR.

Race for Appellate Court Growing More Interesting—Several Candidates from Each District.

Unless some one withdraws the names of fifteen candidates for the nomination for Governor will be placed before the Republican State convention. Every congressional district except two has at least one candidate, these two being the Third and Sixth. The Second district has two candidates, Chris Gardner, and the Eighth has three, Dorey, Shockey and Todd. The Third congressional district only has one candidate for any office and that is D. M. Alsbaugh, of Salem, who is a candidate for Appellate Judge. The Eleventh district is probably the richest in candidates, there being from that district Warren Sayre for Governor, W. Owen for Secretary of State, Leopold Levy for state treasurer, and James H. Hatfield, of Huntington, for Appellate Court judge.

DISMAY IN CAMP.

Democrats Do Not Know Where to Turn for a Candidate.

The impression that has gone abroad that Thomas Taggart has reached the determination that he will do the Democratic nomination that appeared headed his way has caused something akin to demoralization in the ranks of the local Democracy. When Mr. Taggart is approached on the subject he fences and equivocates, but there is little doubt that he has declared to the members of the Democratic State committee that under no circumstances will he accept the nomination and that the party may as well begin to look elsewhere for a leader.

The reported withdrawal of Mr. Taggart is especially discouraging to those Democrats who had made up their minds to seek nominations on the county ticket, the theory being that the strength and prestige of Mr. Taggart would be a little hope there is that anything Democratic could be accomplished in this county next November. That he should head the ticket was especially desired by the brewers and the other interested in the legislative ticket.

BRIGHTWOOD CONVENTION.

Republicans Make Nominations—Anti-Big Four Feeling.

The Republicans of Brightwood held a convention last night and nominated J. J. Valdemare for clerk, Joseph Cook for treasurer, A. W. Wilkinson for marshal, Dr. William H. Johnson for trustee in the Third ward and Charles Meadows for trustee in the Fifth ward.

The meeting was called to order at 8 o'clock by Calvin Bush, and the first action of the convention was to elect Mr. Bush permanent chairman. Dr. Brown and H. C. Prehn were selected for secretaries and the work then began. It being the sentiment of the voters and tax payers to reduce the town's expenses, resolutions were introduced and finally adopted, after being amended as follows:

"Be it resolved that it is the sense of this convention that the offices of treasurer and secretary be combined, and that the town trustee serve without salary. The nomination of candidates was next to follow, after which the following resolutions were offered and adopted: That hereafter each ward nominate its own trustee; that in this convention one ballot only be cast and that the person receiving the highest number of votes be elected.

TO DIVIDE THE WORK.

Feeling that State Convention Should Continue Two Days.

When the Republican State committee meets next Tuesday Chairman Gowen will call its attention to the apparently growing demand that the State convention shall take two days in which to do its work. The approaching convention will have a large amount of work to dispose of, and every day the State committee has suggestions to the effect that all the work should not be crowded into one day. It will have at least four hours over half the delegates to the convention of two years ago, which did not adjourn until 4 o'clock in the morning. At that hour over half the delegates to the hall and gone home or to their hotels. Many delegations were represented by a single delegate, who was either tired or committed to some one who had not been a member of the delegation and who had no authority in the matter, and all it can do is to suggest to the State convention it is understood that a large majority of the committee is in favor of dividing the work and devoting two days to it.

Appellate Court Candidates.

The list of candidates before the approaching Republican State convention for the Appellate Court is growing, and it is now probable that there will be a spirited contest for the nomination in each of the five judicial districts. The full list of candidates to date is as follows:

First District—Wood D. Robinson, of Princeton, and David E. Reem, of Spencer.

Conrad Bender, vice president, Aaron Bohn; secretary, Robert Metzger; assistant secretary, Louis Ruth; treasurer, Fred Gansberg.

Another meeting will be held at the same place next Friday night, when four vice presidents and an executive board will be elected.

Political Notes.

Hon. Will Cumbach, of Greensburg, a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, was a caller at the Republican headquarters yesterday.

Hon. E. P. Newby, of Knightstown, was at the Republican State committee rooms yesterday afternoon. Mr. Newby will be nominated and re-elected to the Senate.

J. A. Mount, Montgomery county's candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, will speak in Spencer's Hall, West Indianapolis, a week from to-night at 7:30 o'clock.

There will be a meeting of the First Voters' Republican Club of the Second ward at the North Side Republican Club to-night at 8 o'clock. All Republican first voters of the ward are requested to attend.

The most recent addition to the Appellate Court field of candidates is Hon. Wood Robinson, of Indianapolis, who is a Representative in the last Legislature and was chairman of the committee on judiciary.

Carey L. Smith addressed the East End Republican Club last evening. The meeting was a rousing and enthusiastic one, and the hall was crowded to its full capacity; most of the candidates for the various offices were present, and to them were called upon and responded with a short speech.

ON ACCOUNT OF A PICTURE.

Miss Lillie Perkins Will Sue George T. Bassett for $10,000.

Lillie Perkins, a pretty sixteen-year-old girl, appears as plaintiff in a peculiar suit for damages to be filed to-day against George T. Bassett, a photographer. The latter won first prize at the recent convention of photographers for a beautiful reproduction of "Autumn," a picture that has attracted national attention. Miss Perkins posed for the picture, which represents her as scantily clothed. She alleges that the negative was altered and that the picture does not show her as she posed. She alleges that her reputation has been injured by its exhibition and in her suit she will claim damages to the amount of $10,000.

The picture "Autumn" has won the admiration of all artists and photographers. It represents a young girl, sitting on the bough of a barren tree. Her disheveled hair suggests a cold, cheerless breeze. The body is clothed in a white mantle, which the wind has blown closely about her. The arms, shoulders, feet and lower portions of the legs are bare. The head is that of a pretty young girl, in whose face there is shown an expression of loneliness, reminiscent of autumn days, the saddest of the year. The picture is artistic, but Miss Perkins says although the face is hers, the photograph as exhibited is injurious to her reputation. It is alleged that her friends have recognized her in the picture and as a consequence have lost their high regard for her.

Miss Perkins at the time the picture was taken was employed in the gallery. She charges that an attempt was made to get her to pose for the altogether, but she declined. She says she finally agreed to pose with drapery. It is alleged that the picture which appeared and was admiration was altered and was exhibited to the public. The groundwork is the same, but the mantle about her has been erased in the negative. Miss Perkins avers that the picture never posed in such a semi-nude condition.

Mr. Bassett, against whom the suit is contemplated, does not regard the affair as serious, but as an effort to injure his business. He says Miss Perkins, with another employee, were dining recently and were invited to the picture. He says that he was not in the picture and did not represent her as she posed. The groundwork is the same, but the mantle about her has been erased in the negative. Miss Perkins avers that the picture never posed in such a semi-nude condition.

APPOINTMENT SURRENDER.

Celebrated Last Night by the Union Veteran Legion.

The anniversary of the surrender at Appomattox was celebrated at Plymouth Church last night under the auspices of the Union Veteran Legion. The exercises were of an interesting character, and were witnessed by a large audience. The church was tastefully decorated with the stars and stripes and portraits of military men. Portraits of Washington, Lincoln and Grant looked down from the stage. Past Colonel George W. Spahr presided, and as he put it, "announced the object of the occasion." Mrs. Celine Winsor gave as the "Star-Spangled Banner" and the "Hymn to Washington." Mr. Carl Cameron gave a trombone solo, "Trump, Trump," with organ accompaniment by Professor Charles Hansen. The address of the evening was by Will Cumbach, who spoke on "The Growth of American Liberty."

Mr. Cumbach began by speaking of the great material progress of the world, following this with an address on the moral, social and spiritual progress has not kept pace with material progress. The history of the human race tells the story of the oppression of the common man. The Bible tells the history of the oppression of the poor, and here is being fought the questions of human liberty. Mr. Cumbach reviewed in a brief and comprehensive way the history of this Nation, the causes leading to it, and the progress people have made in the past, but he said that the American citizen of to-day stands higher than the citizen of any time. He is going forward.

Endangered a Large Factory.

An alarm from Box 43, corner of Michigan and New York streets, called the fire department to the factory of P. Mager in the vicinity of the Indianapolis Chair Manufacturing Company's plant, yesterday morning. The fire did not amount to much. It was a shed kitchen. But owing to its proximity to the chair factory, a second alarm was turned in and the entire department was soon on the scene. In ten minutes the fire was out. The building, a two-story frame, belongs to James A. Lesigrie. The loss is trifling.

THE ARRESTS AT LINTON.

Mr. Chambers Does Not Think the Merchants Violated the Law.

Smiley N. Chambers, who is attorney for the men arrested at Linton for using "token money," said yesterday: "The arrests made at Linton of a number of the business men on a charge of violating the federal statute forbidding the use of cards or tokens to supplant the use and distribution of money of denominations less than one dollar has created a wide-spread interest. The system of securing coupon books to be redeemed in merchandise has become very extensive. Many ice dealers, butchers and grocers of this city use these in their business and find them convenient. There seems to be a very serious doubt as to whether there is in this any violation of any federal statute. The act under which these arrests were made was passed in 1885 when the government was issuing postal currency in denominations of less than one dollar and was willing to do so. The issuing of any notes or tokens that would supplant or diminish the use of money is against the law. The use of notes payable in merchandise only was in contravention of this statute was early before the Supreme Court, and it was there held that it was not. This decision has been subsequently affirmed and is now the settled law of the land. It is believed that the government will not insist upon the prosecution of these cases. At all events, that nothing further than a test case will be further prosecuted. The result will be watched with interest by all persons using this system of credits as well as by the community at large."

DR. WISHARD INJURED.

Narrowly Misses Being Run Down by the Fire Department.

Dr. William H. Wishard, one of the oldest practicing physicians in this city, narrowly escaped severe injury yesterday. He was driving up Illinois street, just above Washington. A hook and ladder wagon from one of the fire department houses came dashing up the street behind him. Dr. Wishard did not hear the going and was too near to get out of the way. A man standing on the sidewalk saw that the hook and ladder wagon was falling and escaped without injury. Dr. Wishard's buggy and sprang forward to grab the horse's bridle. He pulled the horse towards the curbstone. Dr. Wishard turned his head in time to see that the fire wagon was almost upon him and sprang from the buggy. His right leg caught in the buggy wheel and he fell face forward. With considerable presence of mind he covered his face with his hands while falling and escaped without injury. His injuries were attended to in the drug store, after which he was taken to his home, 264 North Capitol avenue. Dr. Wishard is past sixty years of age, and considering his age, bystanders think it remarkable that he was not more seriously hurt. Dr. Wishard said last night that his father was not badly injured, although he was considerably shaken up by the fall.
